ISSUED EVERY TUESDAY MORNING IN TIME FOR THE MAILS

Farm Life as it Might Be.

It is not necessary in this age of the world for the farmer to rise in the middle of the night and begin his work. This getting up so early in the morning is a relic of barbarism. It has made hundreds of thousands of young men curse the business. There is no need of getting up at three or four o'clock in the winter morning. The farmer who persists in dragging his wife and children from their beds ought to be visited by a missionary. It is time enough to rise after the sun has set the example. In the old times they used to get up about three o'clock in the morning, and go to work long before the sun had risen with "healing upon his wings," and as a just punishment they all had the ague, and they ought to have it now. When you rise at four and work till dark, what is life worth? Of what use is all the improved machinery unless it tends to give the farmer a little more leisure! What is harvesting now, to what it was in the old time! Think of the days of reaping, of cradling, of raking, and binding, and mowing. Think of threshing with the flail and winnowing with the wind. And now think of the reapers and mowers, the binders and threshing machines, and ploughs and cultivators, upon which the farmer rides protected from the sun. If, with all these advantages, you cannot get a living without rising in the middle of the night, go into some other business You should not rob your families of sleep. Sleep is the best medicine in the world. There is no such thing as health without sleep. Sleep until you are thoroughly rested and restored. When you work, work; and when you get through take a good, long, and refreshing sleep.

A great many farmers seem to think that they are the only labourers in the world. This is a very foolish thing. Farmers cannot get along without the mechanic. You are not independent of the man of genius. Your prosperity depends upon the inventor. The world advances by the assistance of all labourers, and all labour is under obligations to the inventions of genius. The inventor does as much for agriculture as he who tills the soil. Until genius and labour formed a partnership there was no such thing as prosperity among men. Every reaper and mower, every agricultural implement, has elevated the work of the farmer, and his vocation grows grander with every invention. In the olden time the agriculturalist was ignorant; he knew nothing of machinery, he was the slave of superstition.

The farmer has been elevated through science, and he should not forget the debt he owes to the mechanic, to the inventor, to the thinker. He should remember that all labourers belong to the same grand family—that they are the real kings and queens, the only true nobility.

Above all let every farmer treat his wife and children with infinite kindness. Give your sons and daughters every advantage within your power. In the air of kindness they will grow about you like flowers. They will fill your homes with sunshine and all your years with joy. Do not try to rule by force. A blow from a parent leaves a scar on the soul. I should feel ashamed to die surrounded by children I had whipped. Think of feeling upon your dying lips the kiss of a child you had struck.

See to it that your wife has every convenience. Make her life worth living. Never allow her to become a servant. Wives, weary and worn; mothers, wrinkled and bent before their time, fill homes with grief and shame. If you are not able to hire help for your wives, help them yourselves. See that they have the best utensils to work with. Women cannot create things by magic. Have plenty of wood and coal—good cellars and plenty in them. Have cisterns, so that you can have plenty of rain water for washing. Do not rely on a barrel and a board. When the rain comes the board will be lost or the hoops will be off the barrel.

Farmers should live like princes. Eat the best things you raise and sell the rest. Have good things to cook with. Of all people in our country you should live the best. Throw your miserable little stoves out of the window. Get ranges, and have them so built that your wife need not burn her face off to get you a breakfast. Do not make her cook in a kitchen hot as the orthodox perdition. The beef, not the cook, should be roasted. It is just as easy to have things convenient and right as to have them any other way.

Cooking is one of the fine arts. Give poor wives and daughters things to cook, and things to cook with, and they will soon become excellent cooks. Good cooking is the basis of civilization. The man whose arteries and veins are filled with rich blood made of good and well-cooked food, has pluck, courage, endurance, and noble impulses.

In the good old days there would be eleven children in the family and only one skillet. Everything was broken, or cracked, or loaned, or lost.

There ought to be a law making it a crime, punishable by imprisonment, to fry beefsteak. Broil it, it is just as easy, and when broiled it is delicious. Fried beefsteak is not fit for a wild beast. You can broil even on a stove. Shut the front damper—open the back one, then take off a griddle. There will be a draught downwards through this opening. Put on your steak, using a wire broiler, and not a particle of smoke will touch it, for the reason that the smoke goes down. If you try to broil it with the front damper open, the smoke will rise. For broiling, coal, or even soft coal, makes a better fire than wood.

There is no reason why farmers should not have fresh meat all the year around. There is certainly no sense in stuffing yourself full of salt meat every morning, and making a well or cistern of your stomach for the rest of the day. Every farmer should have an icehouse. Upon or near every farm is some stream from which plenty of ice can be obtained, and the long summer days made delightful. Dr. Draper, one of the world's greatest scientists, says ice water is healthy, and that it has done away with many of the low forms of fever in the great cities. Ice has become one of the necessaries of civilized life, and without it there is very little comfort.

THE GREAT NATURAL DEMAND.

In order to supply the great natural demand for a remedy of real merit, one capable of cleansing the system, purifying the blood, regulating the liver, and acting on the bowels, the California Fig Syrup Company has commenced the manufacture on a large scale of a concentrated Syrup of Figs, and is sending out trial bottles to be given away, so that it costs nothing to try it and convince yourself of its efficacy. And as every family needs a bottle it is also for sale in 75 cent and $1.25 bottles at Langley & Co.'s Drug Store, Agents for B.C. 3

A Wise Precaution.

During the Summer and Fall people are liable to sudden attacks of bowel complaint, and with no prompt remedy or medical aid at hand, life may be in danger. Those whose experience has given them wisdom, always keep Dr. Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry at hand for prompt relief, and a Physician is seldom required. (3)

GILBERT LAIRD, St. Margaret's, Hope, Orkney, Scotland, writes: I am requested by several friends to order another parcel of Dr. Thomas' Eclectric Oil. The last lot I got from you having been tested in several cases of Rheumatism, has given relief, when the doctors' medicines have failed to have any effect. The excellent qualities of this medicine should be made known, that the millions of sufferers throughout the world may benefit by its provident discovery.

THE GENERAL DIRECTORY.—Canvassing work on the new Provincial Directory is nearly completed, and after Mr. Wm. Wolz, the general agent, returns from the East Coast compiling will commence; shortly after that the new work will make its appearance.

MRS. SIDNEY WILSON having returned from San Francisco will be prepared to received her music pupils on and after the 1st proximo. Instruction given either at the pupil's or at Mrs. Wilson's residence, Frederick street, where a piano for daily practice is at the service of those pupils who have no instrument. Lessons given in the evening if preferred.
June 26th.

A. B. DES ROCHERS, Arthabaskaville, P. Q., writes: "Thirteen years ago I was seized with a severe attack of Rheumatism in the head, from which I nearly constantly suffered, until after having used Dr. Thomas' Eclectric Oil for nine days, bathing the head, etc., when I was completely cured, and have only used half a bottle. 50

Never Be Without It.

Tourists and all who are subjected to a change of climate, water, diet &c., should never be without Dr. Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry, the infallible remedy for all Summer complaints. (5)

MR. R. W. CARMICHAEL, Chemist and Druggist of Belleville, under date of May, 31st 1882, Writes as follows:—"Your Burdock Blood Bitters have a steady sale, are patronized by the best families here and surrounding country, and all attest to its virtues with unqualified satisfaction. (4)

THE palm of the hand moistened with Dr. Thomas' Eclectric Oil exerts a wondrous control over pain, speedily and entirely subduing it. The eclectric healing influence of this highly sanctioned medicine is manifested by the rapid disappearance of sores and abrasions of the skin when used. 51

AN UMBRELLA SAIL.—An independent elector this morning came across the harbor in his boat, and thinking it might rain brought his umbrella with him, but finding it only a blow hoisted his umbrella all the same and was safely wafted into port without pulling an oar.

ONE peculiar characteristic of Fellows' Compound Syrup of Hypophosphites is its power of decomposing the food in the Stomach, rendering digestion and assimilation more perfect. *

AN infallible remedy for Fever and Ague is Ayer's Ague Cure. Wholly vegetable and containing no quinine, it is harmless and sure. *

BAD BLOOD.

The blood is the true essence of vitality, without pure blood there can be no healthy action in the system. Boils, blotches, pimples and the various humors and blemishes of the skin are only symptomatic of bad blood—that needs purifying at its fountain head, to render its tributaries pure. Burdock Blood Bitters effectually cleanse the blood from all humors, obtains a healthy action of the liver, bowels, kidneys, skin etc, and strengthening while it regulates and purifies. (1)

The well known drug firm of N. C. Polson & Co., of Kingston, writes that Dr. Fowler's Extract of wild Strawberry has long been considered the best remedy for summer complaints in the market, and adds that their customers speak in the highest terms of its merits. Wild Strawberry is the best known remedy for Cholera Morbus, Dysentery and all Summer complaints. (6)

THE OPPOSITION BOOM.

Every flash of electricity that reaches the Island from the mainland brings glad tidings of Opposition victories. About 2 o'clock yesterday afternoon, Lillooet, which was represented by two government members in the last house, announced that it had been redeemed and that Messrs A. E. B. Davie, and E. Allen, opposition candidates had been returned by thumping majorities. Mr. Brown, who had represented the district since 1875, and was a follower of Mr. Humphreys, received but twenty-eight votes against sixty-nine cast for Davie, and fifty-five for Allen. Mr. Morrison, who also ran on the Opposition ticket, received 45 votes, and Mr. McLellan, Government, got away with only 40 votes. The defeat of the government in Lillooet, is most complete. Mr. Allen was assessor and tax collector under the Elliott government, and was accused by Mr. Beaven of unlawfully retaining several thousand dollars in government funds. He came to Victoria, however, bearded the ministers, proved that Mr. Beaven was wrong, and forced him to a settlement on the basis laid down by him (Allen.) Later in the afternoon came good news from New Westminster, where the returns show that Robson (Opposition) with 262 votes, and Orr, (Opposition) with 168 votes, have won the coveted seats. The election of these gentlemen, coupled with the returns from other districts, proves how thoroughly public sentiment on the Mainland as well as Island has been aroused and how slender a hold the government have upon the popular regard. The government have been routed in every district where "pap" has not flowed in a constant stream, and even in Victoria district, which has been papsaturated for the past few months, the provincial secretary and his follower were defeated. Four districts remain to be heard from, viz: Yale (3 members,) Cariboo (3 members,) Comox (1 member,) and Cassiar (1 member.) The relative strength of the parties in the house as far as the returns have been received, is as under. The returns still delayed may increase the government strength to seven or eight, but under no circumstances can it exceed nine.

ALEXANDRIA.

Alexandria, towards which the attention of all Christendom is turned, is the modern counterpart or existence of the city that was founded by Alexander the Great in the year 332 B. C. The ancient city which attained an eminence in power, magnificence and culture seldom equalled in early times was situated on the shore of the Mediterranean twelve miles west of the mouth of the Nile. The modern city sands partly on what was the island of Pharos, now a peninsula, but mostly on the isthmus by which it is connected with the mainland. This was originally an artificial dyke connecting the island with the land opposite; but through the constant accumulation of soil and ruins, it has attained its present dimensions. The principal public and government buildings are on the peninsula. The ancient city was situated on the mainland adjacent to the modern town, and the extent of the ruins that still exist sufficiently attests its greatness. The general appearance of Alexandria is by no means striking; and from its situation its environs are sandy, flat and sterile. It was formerly surrounded with strong turretted walls, with extensive outworks, but to a great extent these walls have been destroyed to make way for improvements. In the Turkish quarter the streets are narrow, irregular and filthy, and the houses mean and ill-built. The Frank quarter, on the other hand, presents the appearance of a European town, having handsome streets and squares and excellent shops. The streets are nearly all paved. In the suburbs are numerous handsome villas and residences, with pleasant gardens. Among the principal public buildings are the palace of the Pasha, the naval arsenal, the naval and military hospitals, custom-house, bourse, two theatres, several mosques, churches, convents, and etc. There are several important educational institutions, among which is a naval school. The climate of Alexandria is mild and salubrious. The heats of summer are modified with the north-west winds from the sea, which prevail during nine months of the year, the thermometer seldom rising above 85° Fahr. In winter a good deal of rain falls, and throughout the year the atmosphere is generally moist, being saturated with a saline vapour from the sea. Alexandria has been mainly indebted for its prosperity to the advantages of its position for trade. It was this that first attracted the attention of its far-seeing founder to the site and its subsequent history in no way proved his penetration at fault. It soon rose to be the most important commercial city in the world and the great emporium of trade between Europe and the East. Subsequently its fortunes fluctuated with those of its possessors, but the great blow to its prosperity was the discovery of the route to India by the Cape of Good Hope, and under the Turks it sank into insignificance, numbering only about 6,000 inhabitants. Soon after Mehemet Ali became ruler of of Egypt he turned his attention to the restoration of Alexandria. Since the town became the centre of the steam communication between Europe and India, and the principal station on the Overland Route its progress has been rapid. Alexandria has two ports, an eastern and a western. The latter called also the Old Port is by far the larger and better of the two. It extends from the town westward to Marabout, nearly 6 miles, and is about a mile and a half in width. It has three principal entrances. The first or that nearest the city has about 17 feet of water and is used only by boats. The second or middle which is also the principal entrance is about a quarter of a mile wide, and has, where shallowest, 27 feet of water. The eastern side of this entrance is marked by buoys and there are landmarks for guiding to the channel. The third or western entrance has its western boundary about three eighths of a mile from Marabout island, is about half a mile wide, and has from 25 to 27 feet of water where shallowest.

DROWNING MEN CATCH AT A BUBBLE.

The town was alive yesterday with rumors respecting the qualification of the two members elect for Victoria district, it being asserted that they are American citizens and therefore ineligible. Mr. John is a native of Wales, was taken to California when a small child and brought to British Columbia while still a youth. Mr. McTavish was born in New York city of British parents. He never exercised the rights of an American citizen and his father never renounced his allegiance to the British Crown. The member elect came to this province when 16 or 17 years of age, duly registered as a voter when 21, and is a duly qualified British subject according to the laws of Great Britain. Drowning men will catch at straws; but in this case the supposed straw happens to be a bubble.

THE COLLEGE SCHOOL, VICTORIA.

Prize Day.

The midsummer examinations of the College School, which had been held during the week previous (through the kindness of Miss Dupont) in the large class room of Angela College, were brought to a happy conclusion on Tuesday last (St. James' Day) by the distribution of the prizes to the successful competitors. The boys having mustered at 11 o'clock, attended divine service at the cathedral, at which the ante-commission office was read by the Lord Bishop of the diocese, assisted by the Rev. W. Malachi, and a special school sermon was preached by the head master, the Rev. C. H. Badgley. Returning thence to Angela College, His Lordship, who is visitor of the school, took the chair and the more formal proceedings of the day began. The head master having made a few preliminary remarks bearing on the present position of the school, in which he referred to the steady growth in numbers of the boys and to the marked advance, intellectually and otherwise, which he had been able to observe during the past year, then read out the prize list for the Christmas and midsummer examinations of the school year, and introduced the prize men to His Lordship. The Bishop, in a few happy and encouraging words addressed to each, presented the prizes to their respective winners as they were brought before him. Mr. Justice Crease then made a short and stirring address to the boys, dwelling forcibly on the duty incumbent upon them all of upholding the honor and good name of their school by the gentlemanly bearing which is such a marked characteristic of English public school boys. He insisted particularly on the fact that the raison d'etre of such a school as theirs was that it should send forth not only scholars and educated lads, but Christian and manly boys, whose instincts and social training as evidenced in daily life and conduct should stamp them at once as pupils of a school which sought, however distantly, to follow in its system the successful example of the great schools at home.

The Bishop then rose to make a few closing observations. He expressed his great pleasure at being present on such an occasion and the satisfaction with which he had heard of the gradual growth of the school and of the progress of the boys during the school year just ended. He felt sure that the prizes which he had so gladly presented that morning had been won only by continued effort and exertion, and having been thus hardly gained would be all the more appreciated by those who had secured them. His Lordship next referred to the fact that the College School had now been in existence for twenty-two years, and though it had experienced many vicissitudes, he could look forward more hopefully than ever before to its permanent establishment in their midst. He trusted that another year would see it settled in a building of its own worthy of the school and of the important work which it was called upon to fulfil. Alluding in kindly terms to the approaching departure of the Rev. Mr. Allen, he said that he was happy to announce that a gentleman thoroughly fitted in every way, a good scholar, a good cricketer and a man of former school experience, F. G. Walker Esq., B. A. (with honors), of Trinity College, Cambridge, had been that very day appointed to the vacant mastership. In conclusion His Lordship hoped that the holidays which were now to begin would be a period of grateful rest and healthy recreation to both master and boys, and that all would thoroughly enjoy them.

The head master having expressed his grateful obligations to the lady principal of Angela College for the use during examination week of the room in which they were then assembled, and having thanked His Lordship the Bishop for so kindly presiding, and the visitors who had honored them with their presence on this auspicious day, announced that the midsummer holidays would be for the usual six weeks and would end on September 8th.

Cheers were then given by the boys for the Bishop, the ladies and the masters, and the day's proceedings came to a close.

City Council.

WEDNESDAY, July 26.

Council met at 7:45 p. m. Present—His Worship the Mayor, in the chair, and Councillors Boyd, Kinsman, Wrigglesworth, Baker, Shears, Warren and Wilson.

COMMUNICATIONS.

From residents on Pandora street complaining of the condition of the sidewalk above Quadra. Referred to street committee.

From Maurice Humber, asking permission to use a portion of Wharf and Johnson streets. Granted.

From A. B. Gray, requesting that the roadway to the public landing be constructed at the joint expense of the corporation and Mr. Yates. Referred to street committee.

Complaint was made about the dilapidated condition and danger of the old building alongside the new one.

REPORTS.

From the steam roller and rock crusher committee, recommending the purchase of a fifteen-ton rock crusher, at a cost of $3,226.74, and steam roller at $1,286.15; total for both, $4,512.

Coun. Shears stated that his idea of the matter was to order the machines so that they may arrive early next year.

The contract for grading Douglas street was awarded to John Haggerty for $229.50, on the usual conditions.

ROSS BAY CEMETERY.

The contract for digging a well at the cemetery, given to Wm. Healy, not having been commenced, it was moved and seconded that the job be done by day's work. Carried.

SUPPLYING WATER.

Coun. Wrigglesworth asked for further time to report on a water supply to R. Carr and others, as all had been too busy on the election matters. (Laughter.)

REDUCTION OF WORKING HOURS.

The application of corporation workmen for a reduction of time from ten to nine hours per day was again brought up for discussion.

Coun. Wrigglesworth moved that the application be granted, as wages had increased considerably lately.

Coun. Baker seconded. He thought more work would be done by granting the application.

Coun. Kinsman could not see his way clear to support the motion. He would rather increase wages than reduce time.

Coun. Wilson coincided with the opinion of Coun. Kinsman. He thought it would be better to give the workmen Saturday afternoon, or a portion of it. The ratepayers would not be in favor of such a change.

Coun. Shears remarked that the reduction asked for would not apply to the winter months and it should be granted.

Coun. Warren moved that the workmen have their choice between nine hours per day for the week or the Saturday afternoon. Lost, and original motion carried.

THISTLES AND OTHER NUISANCES.

Coun. Shears called attention to the thistle nuisance and also to a filthy drain on Government street north of the Boomerang. The usual notice to property holders to destroy thistles should be inserted in the papers.

GRADING AND GRAVELING.

Tenders were called for grading and graveling Kingston street from Menzies to Montreal; Herald from Douglas to Blanchard; and for making street No. 6 on Spring Ridge, the latter to the extent of $100.

BRIDGES.

Coun. Shears wished Mr. Russell to prepare items of expenditure on bridges for the information of the council.

CEMETERY TELEPHONE.

Coun. Shears moved that the telephone service be extended to the cemetery. A great saving could be effected in a short time by the proposed outlay.

Seconded by Coun. Wilson and carried the work not to exceed $91.

IMPROPER BURIALS.

Coun. Wilson called the attention of the council to a late improper interment. Several complaints had occurred recently and if there is anything wrong it ought to be inquired into.

Coun. Wrigglesworth moved that the matter be referred to the cemetery committee for investigation and report.

Coun. Baker seconded the motion.

Coun. Boyd stated the circumstances of the case in question.

Several councillors took part in the discussion some blaming parties connected with the affair and others defending them. Motion carried.

GOVERNOR GENERAL'S VISIT.

His worship spoke of the expected visit of the Princess Louise and Marquis of Lorne.

Coun. Shears suggested that the Mayor should call a public meeting for the discussion of this matter and the appointment of committees.

It was so resolved.

QUARANTINE.

Coun. Wilson complained that nothing had yet been done by the Dominion government in the quarantine matter.

It was resolved that the minister of agriculture be again communicated with by telegraph stating that more Chinese ships were hourly expected and urging that action be immediately taken.

Council adjourned.

All sensible people, suffering with rheumatism, use Pfunder's Oregon Blood Purifier. *

Hear! Hear!

This is how the government organ has had to acknowledge that in ranking Mr. Raybould as a government supporter it told a—well, a story:

"We were in error in stating that Hon. Mr. Beaven received a telegram from Mr. Raybould congratulating him upon his success. The telegram received was from a gentleman in Nanaimo congratulating him (Mr. Beaven) upon his election at the head of the poll for Victoria City and stating that Mr. Raybould would give any government an independent support."

After this apology Mr. Raybould may be safely classed with the Opposition.

THE SERENADE.—The object of Monday night's serenade is explained by the government organ. It was not to celebrate the defeat of Humphreys and McIlmoyl, but the return of Beaven and the success of the government ticket in Esquimalt where the votes were not counted until twelve hours after the last triumphal toot had died away and the last flaming torch had been extinguished! They are a queer lot of fellows, those government men, who "demonstrate" in such a strange manner that one can ever tell whether they are rejoicing or mourning. Like the man who ate a green persimmon, it is hard to tell whether they are whistling or singing.

What Some People Say.

That the Standard says The Colonist has only three subscribers at Cariboo.

That admitting the estimate to be correct, it is just three times larger than the Standard's list which comprises one subscriber, and he a deadhead.

That the Salvation Army have reached Toronto on their way to Victoria. They will scarcely reach here in time to save the Beaven government.

That charges of corruption in connection with the Esquimalt election are freely hinted, and a scrutiny would seem to be necessary.

That the new flume across the river, opposite Yale, is nearly completed, and mining operations on an extensive scale will commence in a few days.

That the ballots cast for provincial elections should be counted at the various polling divisions,

That the Robson Blizzard struck the Guardian office yesterday.

That it was a 262-pounder and its thunder reverberated at James Bay.

That the Chinese have at San Francisco the best appointed and largest boot and shoe factory on the coast.

That one of the best stocked stores in British Columbia is that of a Chinese firm at Yale.

That on Tuesday next the new Chinese restrictive law will come in force in the United States.

That nothing more is heard of the contemplated visit of the Marquis of Lorne and Princess Louise.

CAUTION.

We beg to call the attention of the trade and the public to the well known quality and elegance of finish of our Gold Cases, guaranteed by us to be of eighteen karat Gold, U. S. Mint assay, or of fourteen karat Gold, as may be stamped, and also to our mode of selling the same, charging only for the ACTUAL WEIGHT of the gold used, and not for the base metal comprised in springs, key pipes, filling of crown, etc. To illustrate which a tag accompanies each one of our Gold Cases, which plainly indicates not only the gross weight of the case, but also the NET weight of the gold.

In explanation of the above we desire to say that the old plan of charging for the gross weight of the case, as if it were all gold, worked well enough as long as the manufacturers were content with the amount of brass and steel actually required in its construction; but when the business was degraded into a contest as to who should get the most base metal into the least quantity of gold and call it a GOLD case, then the time came when, in the interest of dealers in American Watches, it became necessary to adopt a plan of selling, showing the buyer exactly how much GOLD each case contained.

To avoid imposition, purchasers of Waltham Watches will observe that every genuine watch, whether gold or silver, bears our trade mark on both case and movement. Gold cases are stamped "A. W. Co.," and guarantee certificates accompany them. Silver cases are stamped "A. M. Watch Co., Waltham, Mass., sterling silver," and are accompanied by guarantee certificates, signed R. E. Robbins, treasurer. The name "Waltham" is plainly engraved upon all movements, irrespective of either distinguishing marks. This caution is rendered necessary by reason of the fact that our cases are frequently separated from our movements, and put upon worthless movements of other makers and vice versa, thus affecting injuriously the performance of the watches, and vitiating our guarantee, which is intended to cover only our complete watches wholly made by us. It is necessary also, because it is so notorious as to be a public scandal that there is great fraud in the metal quality of both gold and silver cases as now generally sold. We have demonstrated by frequent assays that many gold and silver cases offered in the market are debased from 10 to 20 per cent. from the quality they assume to be. This is a fraud upon the purchaser, and accounts for the low price at which such cased watches have been sold.—AMERICAN WATCH COMPANY, Waltham, Mass. dw

THE CHURCH AND THE INDIANS.

The Trouble at Metlakahtla.

Last evening at 8 o'clock an interesting meeting was held in the Reformed Episcopal Church, Humboldt street, for the purpose of hearing an account by Bishop Cridge and Senator Macdonald of their late visit to Metlakahtla, and the present condition of the missionary field there.

The meeting was fairly attended, the chair being occupied by Mr. James W. Douglas.

The meeting having been opened with prayer by Bishop Cridge, the chairman briefly stated that they were met to hear an account of Mr. Duncan's labors at Metlakahtla.

Senator Macdonald on rising said it was a delusion as to Mr. Duncan having derived any benefit from the trade which he had established at Metlakahtla, as all the money so made had been spent among the Indians, and the trade was merely a convenience to the Indians. Mr. Duncan's labors were well known, even in England, as those of a business man who had carved out a civilization among savages. Mr. Macdonald next spoke of the religious divisions which had been brought about in this place, and the hearty welcome the bishop and himself received as persons who had come to see and judge of the case for themselves. They found the hopes of healing the divisions were faint, though they held a meeting to hear the grievances of the Indians in connection with the subject, which appear to have arisen from the church missionary society having sent out Bishop Ridley to take the spiritual work out of Mr. Duncan's hands, leaving him to manage temporal matters. This was a condition of things which Mr. Duncan declined to accept, and he was supported by the majority of the people, who gave him a bible and asked him to be their teacher, some forty of them only going over to Bishop Ridley. The church society afterwards discovered their mistake and asked Mr. Duncan to return, but he preferred being free and refused. The speaker then referred to the good that had resulted from combining industry with religious teaching. The bishop, after a time, wanted matters all his own way, and this had been the cause of the whole trouble. In conclusion he reiterated that Mr. Duncan's was a spiritual work and that the industries connected with it had been induced with a view of furthering it.

Bishop Cridge referred to his first visit to Metlakahtla fifteen years ago. A great work had been done. Four years previously about fifty of the converts had been removed from Fort Simpson to separate them from old associations. The store—an absolute necessity—had already yielded over $3,000 profit, the whole of which, together with grants of materials from Governor Douglas, had been spent in rebuilding the village and other improvements. Two things especially struck the speaker: Mr. Duncan's care in spiritual matters, especially in admitting converts to baptism; and his entire self-sacrifice. The mission house was open from early rising to late taking rest; none were denied access; none cut short in their business, however trivial it might be. On revisiting Metlakahtla last month, after the lapse of fifteen years, Mr. Duncan was found doing the same work on the same combined plan of industry and religion, with the same self-sacrifice and toil, and with no change but that of progress along all the lines of his work. On Saturday, the day of the visitors' arrival, the elders met to arrange the services for the following day, and requested Bishop Cridge to preach in the morning. Native preachers in turn occupied the pulpit once on each of the four Sundays the visitors were there, and their earnest scriptural exhortations were listened to with every sign of devout attention by their native brethren. Mr. Duncan preaches twice each Sunday, and on Wednesday evenings. Bible classes and Sunday schools are conducted in part by Mr. Duncan and in part by native men and women. The church, built entirely by native hands, will hold eleven hundred worshipers. Its noble proportions and majestic simplicity, Mr. Duncan's own design, strike the eye on entering; but when you hear the hymn sung by the whole congregation with remarkable sweetness and fervency, and the responses like low thunder rolling through the aisles, and reflect what this people once were, it is impossible not to feel deeply moved. The service is liturgical, quiet, and deeply solemn. At the request of the natives and Mr. Duncan Bishop C. baptized thirty-three adults, after careful examination and inquiry, and twenty-three infants. Referring to the troubles at Metlakahtla, while avoiding acrimony, it would be necessary to speak plainly. It was common to regard troubles of this kind as often little more than personal quarrels. Nothing could be further from the truth. The battle at Metlakahtla, if the term could be used of a strife where one party stood wholly on the defensive, was one of principles not of men; and, the names being changed, the incidents are much the same all through the Christian world. He would let the natives speak for themselves rather than use his own words; and he thought it would appear that they were capable of judging their own affairs in fact took a commonsense view of the situation unobscured by theological mystification. He would first give a brief outline of the crisis through which Metlakahtla had recently passed, and then fill up the picture from the native speeches. On the news of Mr. Duncan's dismissal (Nov. 28th) flying through the village, the natives were overwhelmed with amazement and surprise. They prepared a house for his reception, and straightway, without asking his leave, transferred his effects from the mission-house with wonderful celerity. The elders next called a meeting of all the people. Mr. Duncan, having at their request stated the facts, and having charged the natives not to consider him, but only their own welfare, withdrew from the meeting. With every demonstration of feeling, and after the delivery of many fervent addresses, the people, without a dissentient voice, resolved, first, that Mr. Duncan should not leave them; and secondly, that they would belong to no denomination, but be a free native church though on brotherly terms with all. At length, on Christmas day, the elders conducted Mr. Duncan into the church, where a large congregation was assembled, and having placed him in a chair in front of the Lord's table, another elder advanced up the middle aisle bearing a bible. He paused and addressed the congregation, and then turning to Mr. Duncan placed the bible in his hands and with great solemnity requested him, in the name of the congregation, to minister to them the word of God as heretofore. This may not be an ordination, viewed from the ecclesiastical stand-point, but who will question the propriety, validity, and justice of this commission! It would be difficult to give an exhaustive account of the causes which led to these demonstrations. It must suffice to observe the important fact that the natives had for many years been intelligently noting the evils of religious divisions both within and without the Church of England. They had been forced upon their attention in both those aspects by special circumstances. The non-administration of the Lord's Supper has been prominently put forward as an objection against the work at Metlakahtla. He could emphatically state that it was not the divine memorial itself that the natives refused. There were things connected with it which they could not understand in the light of God's word—their only rule of faith. The presence of the Lord's table in the church is a proof that they were only waiting till those difficulties should be removed. He would observe, also, that the refusal of the Episcopal administration of this ordinance was the act of the natives themselves. Passing to the speeches of the natives, Bishop Cridge would observe that they were delivered in his presence and that of Senator Macdonald, that "the chiefs" might know their mind. Twenty-nine of the elders and chief men of the village spoke on two evenings. One chord of sorrow at their being divided was touched by each speaker. They are not yet inured, as we are, to this kind of strife. One testimony to Mr. Duncan's unchanging love, devotion and blameless course was borne by all. They had known his work, but not the work of those who were dividing them. He "had gone through the fire for the Tsimsheans;" he had "walked through blood and the smoke of guns, following his Master." Each expressed decided disapprobation of the course pursued by the church party, and almost every speaker made some scriptural quotation or allusion in support of his remarks; but each address also contained some distinctive feature. One spoke of their migration to Metlakahtla from their old homes to avoid divisions, and now they were incurring divisions again. Another said that there was work enough for the churchmen to do in preaching to the surrounding tribes, without trying to divide the Metlakahtlans. Several spoke of the evil effects of their divisions on tribes, in that some were beginning to "blame the work of God," which hitherto they had thought good; others spoke of the evil effects on their own body. "Their children were beginning to quarrel over the name of God;" "Brethren were beginning to hate one another;" "They were afraid to speak to their children and their brothers." The work which did all this harm could not be of God, they said. While it continued "there could be no progress as heretofore." One asked Mr. Macdonald to represent their case to the governor-general. His Excellency (Earl Dufferin) when at Metlakahtla some years ago had told them "to apply to him when in any trouble, whether from white men or Indians, and he would help them." Another alluded to the church party opening a store, though they had blamed Mr. Duncan for doing so. This, he said, was to tempt them; it was like "holding up a flower to catch a humming bird." God did not so deceive them. The church party, said another, had told them that they were only children; "but they, too, were children, for they were crying to get something which belonged to their fellow-children." The same party, said another, had told them that the "Society" had right and power over Metlakahtla. In this, said the speaker, they surpass our forefathers: our ancestors sold individual slaves, but these "are not afraid to buy a whole village." He would give an extract from his notes of the peaceful effects of Mr. Duncan's work and of its appreciation by the natives all around. At a tea given by Senator Macdonald about four hundred sat down, including a party of Hydahs who had come to trade, and who were also invited. The band played during the repast. After tea, according to custom, several speakers, both Tsimsheans and Hydahs, addressed the meeting. "Before Mr. Duncan came," said one, "the Tsimsheans and Hydahs were always at war. We were always in mortal fear, and could never meet without bloodshed. Now all that is changed. We meet as brethren and are not afraid. It is the Word of God which Mr. Duncan brought us that has done this." About thirty years ago a party of Hydahs lay in ambush on the site of the present village of Metlakahtla and rushed on a party of Tsimsheans passing by. After a bloody fight the Hydahs carried off a Tsimshean boy and girl. Some years afterwards the Tsimsheans bought back the boy. He is now a Christian, and was the interpreter for the Hydahs at this feast. The girl became the slave-wife of the Hydah chief, and bore a son, who, according to custom, was also a slave. At the request of the Tsimsheans Mr. Duncan sent to the Hydahs to deliver up the boy. After some negotiation he was sent back. He is now a Christian, and one of the fishermen. Instead of receiving a ransom for the boy the Hydahs themselves had to make compensation for the original outrage. "We know Mr. Duncan," said one of the Hydahs at this meeting, "and will do what he says. He has punished us, but it has been for our good. Who are they that want to send Mr. Duncan away? We do not understand it."

It was was moved by Mr. B. W. Pearse and seconded by the Rev. J. B. Chantrell,

That in view of the successful working of Mr. Duncan's plan of combining industry with religion in his labors at Metlakatla, this congregation strongly deprecates the commencement of a rival trade-store in that village, as tending to weaken and divide the natives in their prosperous advance under that plan in civilization, order, and temporal well-being. Carried.

It was then moved by Mr. A. A. Green, seconded by Mr. W. Wilson,

That while passing no opinion on the respective merits of church organizations, this meeting is strongly of opinion that the endeavor to establish a rival church at Metlakahtla, contrary to the expressed will of a large majority of the natives is not only inimical to the peace and harmony of the village, but also to the spread of the gospel among the surrounding tribes. Carried.

Senator Macdonald moved a vote of thanks to the chairman, Jas. Douglas, Esq., which being seconded was carried unanimously.

Similar votes of thanks were moved to Bishop Cridge and Senator Macdonald for their excellent addresses.

The meeting was then closed with a benediction.

WEDNESDAY, July 26.

AGGRAVATED ASSAULT.

The case of Thos. Johnson, who was charged with unlawfully assaulting Chas. McMichael, remanded some days ago, was continued.

Mr. Weston appeared for the prisoner.

Chas. McMichael testified that as he was coming down Government street on Saturday night he was warned by a young fellow not to go near King's saloon, as they were going to "give it him." He walked across the street and one Lawrence Mooney came out and after some conversation told him he was fixed. He then went to Williams' stable, when a young fellow came up to him and asked what was the matter with him; he said nothing. His name was Peter Rowe alias Thos. Johnson; he then struck witness with some sharp instrument on the left cheek and cut him through the cheek and tongue; there were two blows, one of which was on the back of the neck; the prisoner came up in front when he struck him.

At this stage the case was remanded for an hour.

THREATENING LANGUAGE.

An application was made by Theodore Davie, M. P. P. elect, to have Chas. Todd, superintendent of government police, bound over to keep the peace on account of threatening language which he had used towards him on Sunday morning, 23d inst.

Mr. Drake appeared for Mr. Davie and Messrs. Mills, Fell and Pollard on behalf of Mr. Todd.

The information stated that Superintendent Todd had on the morning in question at Campbell's corner accused the complainant of uttering falsehoods at a public meeting, and threatened him with a stick, and threatened to mash his head in.

Mr. Mills asked that the information be amended to the effect that the application was made not from malice or ill will by Mr. Davie but merely for the purpose of protecting his person from injury.

Mr. Davie said he had no objection to the clause being introduced.

The clause was inserted accordingly.

Mr. Mills, on behalf of Mr. Todd, put in a plea of not guilty, pleading there was no necessity for the application, but that it was laid from malice, and that the threat complained of was conditional.

Cross examined by Mr. Mills—Mr. Davie stated, I was addressing a public meeting at the theatre last Saturday evening; I was interrupted by Mr. Ford, one of the jailors; Mr. Todd is his superior officer; I did not see Mr. Todd there; the extract now read from The Colonist of the 23d inst. conveys a very tolerable report of what I said; what induced me to make these remarks was that Todd is a paid officer of the government and I considered it to the interest of the people that they should be informed of what I was satisfied was the truth, and that was, that instead of Todd attending to his duties he was doing the mere personal political work of the members of the government; that was the reason I referred to Mr. Todd in those terms; I am the writer of the letter that appeared in The Colonist on Monday morning the 24th over my signature; one of the persons I alluded to in connection with the the tyrannical conduct mentioned was Todd; I have had personal experience of his tyrannical conduct; I don't remember that any interruptions came from Todd at the meeting; Mr. Todd hissed in my ear something to this effect, "why did you tell lies about me at the theatre last evening." After Mr. Todd had muttered these words I passed him by, he followed me and called me a lying ——. I said to him, Mr. Todd will you let me alone, please; it is your duty to preserve peace, not to endeavor to create disturbance. What followed that is stated in the information. He made two distinct threat as stated in the information.

Three years ago Mr. Todd libeled me. I withdrew the prosecution owing to an apology from Mr. Todd, and I will read it.

Mr. Mills objected to this being done.

To Mr. Drake—I came into court merely for protection. He had a big stick and was much excited.

To Mr. Mills—I never stated to any one that after the election I would have Mr. Todd out. He had a big stick in his hand at the time of the disturbance; he usually carries a light cane.

John Fitz Allen, sworn—I recollect Sunday morning, I saw Mr. Todd and Mr. Davie at Campbell's, corner Government and Yates streets. Todd had a stick in his hand, which he usually carries. I heard Mr. Davie say, "You had better let me alone." Todd told him, "I have a notion to break your face. Get out of here," or something of that kind. I was reading the papers; I took little heed of the words. Mr. Davie and I have not talked over this matter. Mr. Davie and Todd were about ten feet off.

Mr. Drake here objected to the evidence of Mr. Todd, as the accused could not be allowed to controvert, but only show malice.

Mr. Mills argued the contrary, stating that where any malice or ill-will was shown between the parties a man could not be bound over.

His Honor decided Mr. Todd was a competent witness.

Mr. Todd sworn—On Monday morning last I met Mr. Davie on Government street. Before meeting me he drew his hat over his eyes, and met me with his head down. This was about ten paces from Frank Campbell's corner. I stopped and asked him distinctly, "What's this I hear you have been saying about me at last night's meeting?" Mr. Davie stopped, threw his hat up off his eyes, and turned to me in an angry manner. His words were, "Don't you provoke a breach of the peace." I told him I was not doing so. He started to walk, and I walked with him. I told him I had heard he had been making some false statements about me at the meeting; that I heard what they were, and they were falsehoods. "And once for all, Davie," I said, "if you don't stop telling falsehoods about me I'll break your jaw." At that time we had reached the corner. Davie repeated my words there in a loud manner. "You will break my jaw, will you? A nice officer of the peace you are, to talk about breaking people's jaws." I told him, "Yes, Davie, if ever you repeat those falsehoods about me I will break your jaw." I lost my temper and swore at him a little. I used the crooked end of the stick on my hand. I did not hold the stick over his head, or threaten to strike him at the corner. I did not use the words repeated by Fitz Allen this morning, or anything like them. There is no ill feeling except on the part of Mr. Davie. I never had any intention of assaulting Mr. Davie.

To Mr. Drake—I am paid by the government. I do not interfere in politics. I did not have charge of Drummond. Never interfered at Cowichan. Have not interfered in this election. Believe my duty is to keep my temper. It is not my usual course to slang a man. I lost my temper. He was very excited. I said to him, "If you don't stop telling lies I'll punish you." He said, "How?" I told him by breaking his jaw. I have no recollection of using words to the effect that "I have a good notion to strike you here."

John Leech sworn—I saw Mr. Todd and Mr. Davie coming down Government street. At the corner Mr. Davie said, "You will break my jaw, will you?" Todd said, "If you repeat those words I will." Mr. Todd did not attempt to strike Mr. Davie. I was at the theatre on Saturday night. Mr. Davie said if Mr. Todd were paid by the government he would be there and interrupt the meeting. Mr. Ford asked Mr. Davie what business he had at the theatre. Ford asked the chairman of the meeting if he might ask a few questions. I don't know if Ford afterward spoke to Mr. Davie or Mr. Shakespeare.

Mr. Mills submitted that if there was any threat, it was a conditional one, and that there did exist ill will between the parties. His Honor therefore had no jurisdiction and could not bind the accused to keep the peace.

He asked for a dismissal on these grounds.

Mr. Drake said His Honor could not be favorably impressed by the conduct of Mr. Todd, while Mr. Davie had shown great command of temper. What occurred in the theatre had no connection with the matter. The evidence was positive. Mr. Davie had sworn he considered himself in personal danger, and there was no evidence of malice. The election was not going on, and Mr. Todd's offence was inexcusable.

He would therefore ask His Honor to bind the accused over.

Mr. Mills said the matter was now a question of law.

His Honor said these cases occurred frequently, and it was the duty of a magistrate to preserve the peace. Mr. Todd was generally engaged in "enforcing" order. He did not approve of the language used by Mr. Davie at the public meeting; but the evidence showed that Mr. Davie required protection. He was sorry to have to give such a decision ot all.

Mr. Mills. Let Mr. Todd give you a bond for $5.

His Honor said Mr. Davie denied any malice, and said he was in bodily fear. He would take the defendant's own recognizances in $100 and two sureties in $50 each.

The bondsmen were Messrs James Fell and William Pollard.

The charge of stabbing was partially heard and remanded for two days for further evidence.

Another similar charge against a Fort Rupert Indian was remanded till Friday.

DEFRAUDING THE REVENUE.

The charge against the four Chinamen for defrauding the provincial revenue was again proceeded with.

R. Jones, sworn and cross examined by Mr. Mills for the defence—Did not take proceedings sooner on account of being very busy during the month of June; two of the Chinamen got the tax receipts belonging to the other two and upon this fact the prosecution was based.

Mr. Mills contended that there was no conspiracy at all and that the proceedings were taken under a wrong section of the act. Their employer, Chung Hop, should have been summoned for non-payment of the tax.

Superintendent of provincial police Todd corroborated the evidence in chief of Mr. R. Jones.

Mr. Mills stated to the court that there was no evidence that the Provincial Revenue Act was in force as the prosecution had not proved that a proclamation had been issued enforcing it. He held that that fact was sufficient to warrant his honor in dismissing the case. Other points of law were also raised. Further he claimed that no conspiracy had been attempted; and that the charge in his opinion fell to the ground.

It appeared to his honor that there had been a conspiracy and that the two tax receipts had been made use of for the purpose of defrauding the revenue out of the taxes due by the other two men.

There was a doubt in the mind of Mr. C. Todd as to whether Ah Hang was one of the parties to the conspiracy on or before the 31st May as Mr. Glover had stated that he only arrived early in June.

Ah Hang was therefore discharged.

The other three Chinamen were committed for trial and admitted to bail in $100 each with two sureties of $50 each to appear at the assizes.

Johnny a Fort Rupert Indian, charged with assaulting another Fort Rupert Indian, was discharged as the witnesses had all left the court.

DR. J. COLLIS BROWNE'S

CHLORODYNE

THE ORIGINAL AND ONLY GENUINE.

Advice to Invalids. If you wish to obtain quiet, refreshing sleep, free from headache, relief from pain and anguish, to calm and assuage the weary achings of protracted disease, invigorate the nervous media, and regulate the circulating systems of the body, you will provide yourself with that marvellous remedy discovered by Dr. J. Collis Browne (late Army Medical Staff), to which he gave the name of CHLORODYNE and which is admitted by the profession to be the most wonderful and valuable remedy ever discovered.

CHLORODYNE is the best remedy known for Coughs, Consumption, Bronchitis, Asthma.

CHLORODYNE acts like a charm in Diarrhœa, and is the only specific in Cholera and Dysentery.

CHLORODYNE effectually cuts short all attacks of Epilepsy, Hysteria, Palpitation, and Spasms.

CHLORODYNE is the only palliative in Neuralgia, Rheumatism, Gout, Cancer, Toothache, Meningitis, &c.

☞From Symes & Co., Pharmaceutical Chemists, Medical Hall, Simla, January 5th, 1880. To J. T. Davenport, Esq., 33, Great Russell street, Bloomsbury, London. Dear Sir,—We embrace this opportunity of congratulating you upon the wide spread reputation this justly esteemed medicine, Dr. J. Collis Browne's Chlorodyne, has earned for itself, not only in Hindostan, but all over the East. As a remedy of general utility, we much question whether a better is imported into the country, and we shall be glad to hear of its finding a place in every Anglo-Indian home. The other brands, we are happy to say, are now relegated to the native bazaars, and, judging from their sale, we fancy their sojourn there will be but evanescent. We could multiply instances ad infinitum of the extraordinary efficacy of Dr. Collis Browne's Chlorodyne in Diarrhœa and Dysentery, Spasms, Cramps, Neuralgia, the Vomiting of Pregnancy and as a general sedative, that have occurred under our personal observation during many years. In Choleraic Diarrhœa, and even in the more terrible forms of Cholera itself, we have witnessed its surprisingly controlling power. We have never used any other form of this medicine than Collis Browne's, from a firm conviction that it is decidedly the best, and also from a sense of duty we owe to the profession and the public, as we are of opinion that the substitution of any other than Collis Browne's is a DELIBERATE BREACH OF FAITH ON THE PART OF THE CHEMIST TO PRESCRIBER AND PATIENT ALIKE. We are, Sir, faithfully yours, Symes & Co., Members of the Pharm. Society of Great Britain, His Excellency the Viceroy's Chemists.

CAUTION. Vice-Chancellor Sir W. Page Wood stated that Dr. J. Collis Browne was undoubtedly the Inventor of Chlorodyne; that the story of the defendant Freeman was deliberately untrue, which, he regretted to say, had been sworn to.—See "The Times," July 13, 1864.

Sold in bottles at 1s. 1½d., 2s. 9., 4s 6d. and 11s. each. None is genuine without the words "Dr. J. Collis Browne's Chlorodyne" on the Government stamp. Overwhelming medical testimony accompanies each bottle.

Caution—Beware of Piracy and Imitations.
